Seen, Heard and Told

By The Editor

It looked like all of Oxberry moved up to Grenada Monday morning. We never did find out what they were looking for.

Sunday passed off smoothly here. The sheriff was exhibiting a couple of dice lay-outs that he had captured north of town.

Our supervisors were in town Monday listening to Mr. Gilfoy, the representative of the commodity distribution organization.

Durrow Horn and a bunch of other deer killers are preparing to leave for Sharkey County over the week end to see what they can do. Several are going to carry guns to fool their wives.

Well, our National Guardsmen will be U. S. Soldiers at 12:01 Monday morning, unless plans go amiss.

That day is remindful of August 5 (I think it was), 1917, when the other Headquarters Company boys and I were drafted into Federal service.

All of us hope that Captain Jim Shaw will "get by" the medical examination, for trained officers like Jim Shaw, who are natural leaders, and who possess resourcefulness to great degree, will be needed badly. Jim Shaw in a chair, would be more valuable than many of the sixty day wonders I served under.

Hope our good friend, Dave Williams, president of our board of supervisors, will come around all right from his trip to the hospital. He is already singing the song, "Aint they sweet."

Condolence to our friend, Dr. Hudson upon the death of his aged mother who was buried at Graysport Monday. We regret that full details of this estimable lady's life are not available for a suitable article.

Which is better: $40,000 per month in cash money spent in the county or long line of clients toting off grape fruit, dried milk and prunes

It costs us plenty of money to put local pictures in the GCW, but we believe that one of them is worth more than one hundred pages of Hitler, Rome, Patagonia and Davenport, Iowa.

Brother C. M. Harwin, the owner of part of the Hill tract in Beat Four, breezed in from Dallas, Texas, and inquired which was the best newspaper in Grenada. Several told him. Thanks for the two bucks, Brother Harvin.

Bring some of your printing orders to the same place you bring your efforts to get free publicity for your pet schemes. We, too, have to live.

Is it better for the relief client to walk to town, wait in line half a day, then tote his commodities home,, or to have his green stamps delivered to him so that he can spend them at his community store, if he desires? The answer is easy.

LOST: our poet at Vet's Hospital.

Also, we are going to lose several subscribers next week, for we warned them.

If you can knit, and want to knit some sweaters, for the Red Cross, contact Mrs. Hurd Horton who has the Red Cross yarn for distribution to volunteer knitters.

Therrill Costilow and Mrs. Tommie Rose are thankful for seeing their brother, Lynn Noel Costilow, and wife of Lake Charles, Louisiana. Mr. Costilow has not been here, or seen by his brother and sister, in nineteen years.

To make a long tale short, all the college boys and gals came home Wednesday.

In the news item carried recently concerning Dr. Cole Pittman's promotion, we inadvertently overlooked mentioning another son, Keith Pittman, who lives near his parents in Montgomery County. He and his wife, a daughter of the late beloved Dr. C. P. Hemphill, are sources of great help and comfort to their parents.

RECREATIONAL PROJECT OPENING

Miss Mary Elizabeth McNeill, Recreational Director, announces the formal opening of the Recreational Center at the Community House in Grenada at ten o'clock Saturday morning.

Miss Sara Longston, State Musical Director, will be here to show a free picture in colors. She spent twelve months in Hawawai. A community sing will be included in the program to which the public is most cordially inbited. This is a free entertainment.

Miss Katherine Brewer Was Buried Here Saturday

Miss Katherine Neicie Brewer of Grenada died in the Valley Hospital at Harlengen, Texas last Thursday, November 14, 1940.

Miss Brewer was born in Duck Hill, Mississippi, on June 30, 1913, and was the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Brewer of that community. With her parents, she moved to Grenada about fifteen years ago. She was graduated from Grenada High School and afterwards became the City Water Clerk for the City of Grenada, where she made countless friends by her uniform courtesy and efficiency.

Both of her parents died about ten years ago, and it was upon Miss Katherine that fell the responsibility of the members of the large family, and it was she who was really the head of the family, to whom all the younger ones looked, and well did she perform the duties of head of the house.

She was a member of the First Baptist Church of Grenada, and was a young woman who not only professed Christianity, but one who, by concrete deeds, lived a life of practical Christian service.

Her body was brought back to Grenada from Texas and buried Saturday afternoon at Woodlawn Memorial Park, the Rev. Glen Eric Wiley officiating. Clayton Carpenter, Skeet Futhey, Johnny Leigh, Dr. S. B. Caruthers, Lloyd Lott and Frederick Theisman served as active pallbearers while the Mayor and five members of the City Council served as Honorary pallbearers.

Surviving her are five brothers, James, Archie, Walter, Leigh, Samuel and Charlie Brewer and two sisters, Miss Undine Brewer and Mrs. Russell Heath.

To the surviving members of the family, we extend our sympathy.

Gilfoy Explains Food Stamp Plan To Supervisors

Mr. Gilfoy of the Surplus Comodity division of the U. S. Department of Agriculture appeared before the members of the county board of supervisors Monday afternoon, and explained to them, and to a large group of city and county merchants and businesmen the fundamentals of the Food Stamp plan. Present also were several members of the City Council and Mayor Sharp. President D. A. Williams of the board of supervisors, ill in Grenada Hospital, was unable to be present, but the four other members, Messrs. Chamerlain, Horton, Strider and Elliott, were present.

Briefly, the county must provide a revolving fund about $6,000.00, and must provide the money (estimated at about $400 per month) to maintain an office and two bookkeepers. Upon thirty days notice, the county may "cash in" and quit. So much much for the cost. From the interest manifested by some members of he city government, it is not unlikely that the City of Grenada may help in financing the plan, though all of the financing must be in the name of Grenada County.

As for the beneficiaries of the plan, it should be stated that the food merchants who will be able to sell about $40,000 worth of "surplus" commodities monthly, and the direct-relief and the work-relief clients who will receive green stamps (usuable in purchasing these commodities), are the direct beneficiaries of the plan, while business in general will be bettered when $40,000 in cash is liberated in the county each month.

Should the Food Stamp Plan be started here, the present method of "toting" off commodities from the commodity warehouse will be abandoned.

From the questions asked, and the interest manifested by the supervisors, it is believed that the meeting may result in the county's participation in the scheme, tho, of course, no committements were sought or secured.

LEGION-SPONSORED DANCE FOR GUARDSMEN

On next Friday night, November 29, the Grenada Post of the American Legion is going to compliment the young men of the local National Guard unit with a dance at the Community House in Grenada.

The dance committee announces that Eddie Hale's ten-piece orchestra has been secured for the occasion and that the dance will begin at ten and end at two.

Further details of this event will appear in this newspaper next week.

"TURKEY DAY" DREW LARGE NUMBER OF FOWL CATCHERS

Everyone from Mr. J. H. Oliver, who acted as master of ceremonies, to the most humble little colored boy, excited at a chance of catching a live fowl for Thanksgiving dinner, had a grand and hilarious time at "Turkey Day", put on by The Oliver-Lilly Motor Company on 51 Highway in Grenada Wednesday afternoon.

Fifty fowls, about thirty of which were turkeys, were released from the top of the building, to match wits with the several thousand people, of all ages, colors and creeds who had been attracted to the event. It was a good natured bunch of people who vied one with the other in seeking to capture a fowl. Appropriate music furnished by a hill billy band was an added attraction. Everything was free, turkeys, geese, guineas, and all. Two rules governed, that one person could not capture over one fowl, and that the fowls suffer as little manhandling as possible. One fowl would be for the white boys under twelve, another for the colored boys under 12; another for white women, another for negro women, etc., this being done to prevent all of the "spoils" of war going to the strongest and the bravest.

Everyone enjoyed the "Turkey Day", a day of free entertainment. Everyone is looking forward to the time when another such day is announced for Grenada.

Few fowls were fouled, for every care was taken to handle them carefully.

SATURDAY NIGHT SUPPER CLUB

Mr. and Mrs. John Bradley were hosts on Saturday evening to members of the Saturday Night Buffet Bridge Club. Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Boone were non-member guests present. The hosts served delicious roast turkey. The member guests, as is their custom, brought the other delicious food served buffet style.

During the evening they enjoyed many excellent games. Mr. Earl Burkley and Mr. L. D. Boone were high score winers for the gentlemen, and Mrs. Bradley and Mrs. Morrow were high score winners for the ladies.

Somebody said a man once married a telephone girl. Sometime later she presented him with triplets. A telephone girl will often give the wrong number.

THANKSGIVING---1940

America—bright spot of light on the surface of an ever darkening world—your sons and daughters will give thanks this year in a spirit that has never been approached since the first prayer of gratispirit that has never approached since the first prayer of gratiproviding these reserves of the barest necessities of life.

Today our material reserves are almost limitless. But the spiritual reserves of all mankind have dwindled to a point where desolation threatens horribly in many stricken corners of the earth and only here—no thanks, perhaps, to us—does something approaching normal life give promise of enduring, if we have the character and the courage that will be required to maintain it.

We thank God for all that the American way of life has meant to us. For the privilege of individuality—of being completely ourselves without let or hinderance from any authority so long as we kept within the law. For the privilege of working where we would, when we would, and as much as we would, conditioned only by the need for self-support. For the right to choose our friends without benefit of snooping oversight by government police For the right to political opinion and the privilege of giving them expression at the polls. For the priceless blessing of believing whatever our faith and reason warrant as to the existence of God and His relationship to us—and of worshipping Him in whatever way appeals to our individual intelligence. For the right to speak or write as we think or any subject so long as we do not preach sedition or otherwise demoralize our fellows. For the privilege of blundering along in what ever business or profession we have chosen as a means of livelihood—of scoring our own small triumphs, making our own mistakes, soaring, stumbling, falling, rising, all under our own power, learning something from each phase and gradually rounding out our lives and fashioning our characters with the help of hard knocks, taken all alone, and overcome.

We are thankful inexpressibly—that even in the hardest times that we have known so very few of us have been in actual want. That what has looked to us like trouble has been for almost all of us a mere intensification of our problems and not the sort of stark suffering that has been so widespread in other lands. Perhaps our immunity has made us somewhat soft for times like these. Perhaps we haven't seen as clearly as we should what a tragic world this can be where human institutions do not permit the race to utilize fully its God-given genius for overcoming obstacles and beautifying life. But we are learning. And, thanks to the power of personal initiative, so highly developed by our own institutions, we feel able not only to protect ourselves from sinking into ways of suffering futility but to help others rise from their present tragic plight and share in the blessings of a free and forward-looking way of life.

We recognize this as America's great day of destiny. For this hour she was founded. For this tremendous crisis her people have been trained. To meet the need of human-kind, when all the accumulated wisdom of the ages is being cast aside and man's slow, plodding effort to rise above the jungle seems on the point of being wholly nullified. Here, almost alone in the world, the best thought of the race since time began is, in some form, still alive and stimulating men to finer, more productive, more cooperative lives.

We pray God for the wisdom and power to keep the torch alight in our own land and, by means of it, to relight the beacons of peace and progress to the furthest corners of the earth when the present period of barbarous brutality has passed and men of all races and ranks have turned sick of senseless destruction.

With full hearts we thank God for the privilege of having lived our lives in this America—not just a nation but an atmosphere, a spirit, an ideal. Not alone His masterpiece of physical creation, but a form of spiritual aspiration whose underlying motive—often disregarded but never far submerged in any of our hearts—is to bring into being that ideal so long ago embodied in the angels' incantation—"Peace on earth, good will toward men."—H. B. Lewis.

Band Boosters Club Met Tuesday

The Band Boosters meeting was held at the High School Tuesday evening at 7:30.

The meeting was called to order by the Presdent, Mrs. Roy Honeycutt. The minutes were read and the roll called by Mrs. Weir. There were about twenty four members present, which was a good attendance, but we would like to have the parents of every band child and anybody else who would like to help boost our band.

Mrs. Louie Angevine reported as chairman of the table committee a nice amount of labels collected for this month.

The club discussed ways of using money for the majoretts suits which is a new and attractive addition to our band.

Mr. Dollarhide explained a cake walk and the club decided to have one either on the square or at the gym sometime before Christmas holidays.

Mesdames Pleasants, Green and Rayburn were appointed as the committee to work out plans. So when they call on you please help out and let's make it go over in a big way.

The club is also going to sell Dolly Doesits for cleaning pots, pans, etc. so get ready for your Christmas baking by using Dolly Doesits.

The meeting was turned over to Mr. Dollarhide, he gave a picture shown the last year Greenwood Christmas Festival which everyone enjoyed very much.

The next meeting will be held the second Tuesday evening in December at 7:30.—Contributed.

Grenada Terracing Unit Makes Good Progress

More than one hundred farmers have made application to terrace and ditch 1800 acres to stop erosion losses on their farms. Mr. W. A. Hayward has been appointed managing engineer to operate the terracing program in the county. All farmers desiring to have work done should make application to Mr. Hayward or at the county agent's office.

To date six hundred acres have been terraced and ditched on twenty farms. Eight livestock watering ponds and lakes have been constructed, 23,000 feet of terraces and 64,200 feet of ditches habe been constructed. This is equivalent to forty-six miles of terracing and twelve miles of ditching. These terraces and ditches have been constructed at an average cost of 58 cents per 100 lineal ft. The AAA soil building payments for terraces is 75c per 100 ft. and it is certain that all farmers should make every effort to improve their farms with terraces while AAA payments are abailable to pay the expense of the work.

To date work has been completed on the following farms: H. T. Jackson, F. B. Scott, E. L. Atkinson, J. G. Thomas, The Kraetzer-Cured Lumber Co. A. G. Williams, C. B. Johnson, Whitfield Martin, Henry Dunn, J. L. Elliott, J. F. McRee, Mrs. E. L. Wilkins, A. W. Hammonds, Andrew Ross, Clarence Head, W. W. Corder, S. B. Latham and W. A. Billups.

Letter From "Red" Brisco To The Grenada Citizinship

I wonder how many COMMERCIAL kilowatt consumers, who are also citizens and Taxpayers are thinking in terms of a City Power Plant that would, in due time, lower our structure of Commercial power rates and at the same time be an asset to the City of Grenada; our water system is an outstanding example of a city owned unit as it has shown an accretion of surplus funds from year to year that is derived from the profits of the proceeds of water bills that is being paid by we citizens with apparently no complaint on its rate structure because these rates seem to be reasonable and in proportion.

I know of a city not far from us that is similar in size to Grenada that owns its power plant and is doing business in a big way, last year their receipts from electricity only was $59,572.40 and their surplus funds that were transferred from the power and water fund to take care of expenses in other departments of that city for which sufficient funds were not made available by taxes were in 1939 $37,-000.00 or equal to 22 mills of taxes.

Their structure of rates as BASIC, INDUSTRIAL and COMMERCIAL figures for the first 500 kilowatts consumed, the sum of $17.50 and NO contract or contract load charge, calibrating to a much lower rate in accordance with the amount of additional kilowatts consumed. Incidentally, the writers present Commercial Billing for 500 K. W. or 35 K. W. is $20.54 which is inclusive of 1/3 of 1 percent of government tax). And aside from amounts transferred each year, this city has invested in improvements, viz buildings, engines, reservoir, pumping plant wells distribution lines, etc, a total of $215,000.00 in the past 12 years and have paid for same out of light and water receipts, less a $50,-000.00 bond issue.

Last Sunday's Commercial Appeal carried on page 14 of Section 1 an article headed "Leland Light Plant Operates At Profit" that is very interesting to read, and may I add, nothing is too good for our Grenada.

In consideration of these figures we may readily see the possibility of operation of a City owned light plant with an attractive structure of rates and at a profit that can be derived from generating and selling kilowatts from our own Distribution Lines in our own home town, we have the greatest city we know of and why not benefit by some of the profits that opportunity is constantly offering us.

In the Minute Book 16-J on page 117 you will find the following written statement:

"The City will grant to the company a franchise within the City for the operation of the light and power system of the company for a period of 25 years which franchise shall be non-exclusive and shall not prevent the City from erecting and/or operating a competing light and power plant and system at any time if it so desires."

In a letter, responsive to inquiry, from the Chairman of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation in Washington, I quote one paragraph:

"This Corporation has the authority to make loans to municipalities or other public agencies for financing projects creating employment upon sufficient security, and at a reasonable rate of interest, to be determined in each individual case by our Directors; this includes financing the sponser's share of the WPA project. Some loans have been authorized at a four percent interest rate with maturities extending over periods as long as fifteen to twenty years."

Pigeon Makes Georgia-Mississippi Flight

On the morning of November 13, Messrs. W. B. Nicols and Sam Mims noted on one of their wild hedges an apparently exhausted pigeon. Opening the window they secured the bird, and, after feeding and watering the weary traveler, found that the following inscription was on a leg band: AC 39 W M A A No. 595 Macon, Georgia.

Mr. Nicols immediately wrote the postmaster at Macon and asked him to contact the proper person who would be able to throw light upon the pigeon's flight, etc. It developed that the pigeon belonged to the Macon Pigeon Club, and that the high winds prevalent in the South at the time were responsible for the bird's getting off its course.

Mr. Nicols has the pigeon at his home in Grenada and will be glad to [illegible] him over to the proper [illegible] should the owner at [illegible]

LET'S BE TRULY THANKFUL

We in America have more to be thankful for than any other people in the world. Yet do we all celebrate our Thanksgiving Day as we should? We should all remember that Thanksgiving Day's primary purpose is to give thanks to the Lord for our many blessings, but even in these times when we should be so thankful, some of us aren't. With conditions as they are it other parts of the world, we should make every day of thanksgiving. We in America sat down to bountiful dinner yesterday; Englishmen hovered in air-raid shelters; Frenchmen awaited in long lines for the German conquerors to pass out food to them. German civilians ate a scanty meal by a small fire for food and fuel are scarce in Germany, Greeks and Italians lay in snowy mountain passes and fought, but we ate good food, in warm homes, safe from bombs and shells. After dinner some went, not to air-raid shelters, but to football games or picture shows. Others took their guns and went, not to a trench or front, but out hunting rabbits or other game.

Truly we should be thankful that we live in America, where surpluses, not deficits, are the problem; where we can live without fear of air raids and invasions from powerful neighbors. We are thankful for these blessings and we can show our gratitude by being better men and better Americans.

ARMISTICE DAY

The High School students played a big part in the annual Armistice Day celebration of November 11th. After the parade, in which several high school girls rode in the display of the new 1941 automobles and in which the Grenada High School Band, the Girl Reserves, and the Boy Scouts and Cubs took part, ended at the school, the Glee Club and the band sang and played several numbers. Laverne Wilson, Benton, Keeton, John Keeton, Billy Semmes, Anne Odom, Rogers Pleasants, and Marguerite Stanley gave Armistice Day speeches. After a salute by the National Guard, Mickey Angevine blew "taps."

TWIRLER SELECTED

The selection of the five new drum majorettes has been announced. The girls are Marguerite Stanley, Mary Nell Rayburn, Lillian York, Joyce Fleming, and Margaret Green. They, in addition to the other two high steppers, Verna Leggett and Martha Jonhnsey, will march with the band. The girls were chosen on the basis of good looks, twirling and strutting ability, and will add one hundred per cent to the already A-1 appearance of the band.

CAPEL PROGRAM
CHAPEL PROGRAM

The chapel program for November 13 began with the group singing "Doxology." Mr. Rundle then spoke on influencing for better all those whom one comes in contact. Then the boys—who will leave for National Guard Camp—Tom Hardy, W. B. Abel, Chester Irby, and Raymond Collins,—were applauded heartily as Mr. Rundle spoke of the steadfastness and faithfulness of these boys.

JUNIOR PLAY

The Junior Play was a "grand and glorious," success. So eager were the people of Grenada to see Miss Shows in the role of Maggie, John Keeton and his little dog, Trot as Squire Jones, Miss Turner as Maggie, and numerous others in the role of favorite comic characters, that not only were all seats and standng room taken, but also, a number of people had to be turned away because of the lack of room.

The Seniors of 1941 feel themselves lucky, indeed, and are eagerly awaiting a sumptuous feast, since the net proceeds of the play were more than any other Junior Class of Grenada of Grenada High has before realized from the annual entertainment.

JUNIORS EXPRESS THANKS

The Junior Class hereby express their appreciation and gratitude to each person who contributed in any way—labor, ideas, moral support, financial support, costumes, properties, arts on the program, or otherwise—to the program of Tuesday night. The spirit of cooperation among all classes was unusual. Apparently there was never a discordant movement throughout the whole time. Especially do the Juniors reorganize the help of the Freshmen in selling tickets and the offers of various persons outside the Junior Class to help whenever they could.

The student body and faculty of Grenada High School express the sincere hope that Mrs. Talford Jacks, or Lola Mae as she is better known, will soon be entirely well. Her efficiency, cheerfulness, and helpfulness make her popular in G. H. S.

GIRL RESERVES MEET

The Girl Reserves met in the high school auditorium Thursday morning. A short business session proceded the program. Triangle Three, with Sue Rowell a leader, gave the program the theme of which was the Y. W. C. A.'s building Christian informational relationships. Barbara Nell Roberts gave interesting facts about Africa; Betsy Ann Smith, America; Peggy Thomason Asia, Australia, and New Zealand; Mary Martindale, Europe. Between each two subjects discussed, Lorraine Fisher read verses of scripture, Katherine Herring read a poem THIS MOMENT. Grace Smith gave a report of the conference in Eupora, to which she, Betty Rule, and Marguerite Stanley were delegates. Miss Haynes was one of the conference leaders, and Mrs. J. K. Avent was an official. Miss Ellzy was the bookroom attendant.

"Poop" Keeton got an answer right in Algebra.

WASTE P. SKET

Benton Keeton's and Pauline Richardson's theme song used to be "The Breeze and I," but has been revised to "The Bridge and I." Willie Semmes had better watch it.

Lights: Camera! Action! Billy Townsend and Camilla Smith en route to Kosciusko.

Betty Edvards seemed to have a hard time deciding among her five admirers Friday night. Don't worry, Bryon, there's safety in numbers.

Clyde Horn's ring has been reinstated on Lil York's finger.

Catherine Herring and James Elliott are the latest for this week.

This Anne Odom-Fred Hodges affair seems to be getting quite serious.

Isabelle Gattis and "Ep" Smith have made it all up now.

Gracie and "Scrapper" Lockett are still going as are Jackie and the much-heard-of-Jack.

Martha Johnsey and "Wee Willie" Lane could be seen almost any afternoon out riding before he left.

Who's pin does Sue Rowell wear pinned over her heart?

It's reported that Katherine Jones has an out-of-town admirer.

Grace still pines after the departed "Shy."

Poor Martha without Fred Murray.

Lewis Hester took Polly Parker to church Sunday.

Billie Saunders and Rogers Pleasants seem to enjoy being together.

That was an awfully pretty "cake" that Jack bought for Jackie's birthday.

Leon Provine and Anne Duncan were around lately.

Romance in the Faculty. Miss Martinson and Coach Staton enjoy each other's company.

Miss Owen: "What was the greatest phase of Greek culture?"

Ernestine McNutty: "Agriculture."

ODE TO THANKSGIVING

Algebra, Shakespeare, Shorthand and Latin,
I've crammed 'till I can't even speak
Still I think I'll enjoy the kind of cramming
That I'll do all of Thanksgiving week.

Betty Rule: Mr. Stubbs, who do you think will win the game Friday night?"

Mr. Stubbs: "That's what they're going to play for."

The Seniors wish to express their sincere grief at their bereft condition now that Mr. Shakespeare has departed, not to return until mid-term. (The real grief comes at the thought of his return).

Miss Pierce: Bessie conjugate the verb swim and Edgar, conjugate the verb "dim."

Bessie Moore: "Swim, swam, swum."

Edgar Turnipseed: "Dim, da—, aw, teacher I just can't go on."

So long.

Katy.

The "Dam Dams"

The "dam dams" again are the subject of acrimonious debate pro and con among the people of this county.

As usual when such propositions are "up" those who hope to be benefitted by the dam as well as those who think they can sell their lands to good advantage are "for" the dams, while those who think they will be in injured and those who do not want to risk selling their lands as well as those who for their own good reasons wish to keep their property intact, are "against" the dams.

It is a settled fact that there is no immediate cause for alarm, or for gladness either. There is no occsion for those menaced by the proposed lake to move before Christmas, nor is there any good reason to begin cleaning up new ground below the dam this year. The dam will not be built this year, if at all.

If every person in the affected area wanted the dam it would not necessarily follow that the government would spend $22,000,000 here. On the other hand, if the government felt that the dam was necessary in its major scheme of controlling the Yazoo River floods, the dam would be built in spite of protests of all concerned.

The Voice Of Experience

In view of the fact that the Food Stamp Plan is a subject of prime interest in this community at this time, we take the liberty of reproducing a personal letter just receved from the President of the Chamber of Commerce in Greenwood:

I have read your paper of this week and saw your fine editorial on the matter of the Food Stamp Plan.

For your information the Chamber of Commerce has been working on this proposition since last April. During the campaign I understand the administration did not bother with the South, but did establish this plan all through the middle West and almost every where else it was wanted except in the Solid South.

I will warant that I have written not less than 100 letters besides telephone conversations in regard to this Food Stamp Plan

Well at last this week and the latter part of last they sent us a man here to survey the situation we had not one but three meetings with the City Council and the Board of Supervisors, and I am confident that by the middle of next week we will have a letter from the Secretary of Agriculture telling us that this plan has been approved for Leflore County.

There is quite a lot to this proposition—more than I thought, but it was the consensus of opinion throughout the county, and city, all members of each Boards as well as every Welfare Agency, and of course, all of the food merchants.

I do hope you will be able to get it started in Grenada County.

Your City Commission and your Board of Supervisors should work together on the proposition since it will naturally be county-wide and the Board of Supervisors should not be required to put up all the money. If we can tell you anything about it we will be glad to do so.

No "Outside" Women In Our Democracies

We were reading this week in Liberty Magazine an article laying the blame on the fall of France upon two "outside" women, one the beautiful lady-friend of Reynaud, the other theequally beautiful lady-friend of Daladier.

Sometime ago, in the same magazine, we read a serial story dealing with the escapades of the bachelor German dictator, and this serial was filled with tales of his "outside" lady friends.

We have seen photographs of,and references to thr or that woman, said to be "close" to the Italian dictator. King Carol's infatuation with his red-haired "lady friend," Madam Lupescu, has engaged the world's attention for a decade.

A nation is no stronger and no better than the women who really guide the leaders of that nation. France, Germany, Italy and Rumania are really governed by the "outside" women who influenced the leaders of those countries.

Compare these marital conditions in the governments of the dictator states, with the marital conditions in the government of Britain and with the marital conditons in the government of the United States. The name of no "outside" woman has ever been linked with that of Britain's king. On the contrary, if we believe the pictures we see and the articles we read, the Queen of England is a constant source of strength to her husband, the king. The wife of our President and the mother of our President are bulwarks of strength to him. No one ever heard of any "outside" woman wielding the power "behind the throne" in the Roosevelt administration.

It is usually true that it is the hit dogs who does the howling.

Me and Politics have disbanded.

Will The U. S. A. Enter The War?

By HERBERT B. ALLEN

In earlier editorials I have commented upon the war overseas, and in this, my last contribution before leaving the Southern States, I should like to write in the same conversatonal vein in which I would talk to you across the table. Whether the United States will go to war or not is a very important subject and one very close to your homes. I am not a very wise person and I realize that the only interest my opinion may have is dependent entirely on my reasoning. Having roamed over the globe for quite a long time I naturally have an intense interest in the war and in all of the nations fighting it. So this is a globe trotter's viewpoint on the United States.

By far the most significant event of recent times was the total failure of the tremendous German effort to invade England. Based on that gigantic failure alone I predict that the United States will not enter he war in the sense that a large army will leave the shores of this country to fight abroad under any circumstances whatever.

If the superhuman efforts of the German command were unable to cross the twenty two miles of the narrow English Channel, then what chance would any large army have to cross an ocean. If this reasoning is faulty I would earnestly appreciate being corrected. It is true that Canadian and Australian troops have been moved across the Atlantic and Indian oceans to the war zone. But the perils of modern aerial and submarine warfare have made the task of moving an army of the size of the old A. E. F. an absolute impossibility.

Let us direct our attention toward the Pacific ocean. Many are of the opinion that the United Staes may go to war with Japan. But what I have said with reference to the Atlantic ocean applies doubly with reaagrd to the Pacific. If you have never crossed the Pacific ocean you really do not realize what distance means. Because of the importance of distance as it affects the possibility of war I am going to be as specific and accurate as possible in the next paragraph.

Please keep in mind this fundamental fact. Naval experts are agreed that a great fleet cannot fight more than 1500 miles away from its home base. This applies to the battle ships and battle cruisers of the navy. Because of this limitation the Japanese have been doing just as they pleased in the Far East for nearly ten years.

The closest American naval bases to Japan are near Seattle, Washington, and at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii. The distance by wafer from Seattle to Yokohama, Japan, is 4900 miles. To realize just how far Japan is from Seattle it is necessary to remember that by direct air line mileage it is as far from Seattle to Tokyo as from Seattle to London. And Pearl Harbor is as far distant from Japan as Chicago is from London.

Therefore, insofar as the use of our great battle fleet is concerned there will be no naval war with Japan. Great distance makes it physically impossible Should the Japanese attack the Philippine Islands, which is possible, the Japanese would run into serious difficulties with the U. S. Navy in spite of the great distance, for there has been a large fleet of submarines in Far Eastern waters for sometime; and these would be joined by British submarines and destroyers from Singapore. As Japan is an island and all of the foreign trade of her empire, and the supplying of her large armies must be carried in ships, an intensified submarine campaign against her would be a very serious hazard for Japan. But her geographical position enables the Japanese to feel complete immunity from both the U. S. and British main fleets. Naturally, if the Navy could not penetrate t oJapanese waters, it would not be possible for our soldiers to be landed on Japanese soil.

It is unlikely that the Philippine Islands could be defended. In fact, it is questionable how long Singapore, the world's greatest naval fortress, could withstand the Japanese The Japanese Navy could not capture Singapore, but the much greater air power of the Japanese in that part of the world might make it a shambles, if the British were still so heavily involved at home that no additional air forces could be spared for the defense of Singapore.

What could the U. S. Army Air Corps do against the Japanese? Plenty! That is, if it could get there. But the same great element of distance intervenes again in Japan's favor. We have an air base at Hawaii. And up in the Aleutian Islands, far off the coast of Alaska, we are developing Dutch Harbor as a base. I do not know what operations could be expected from an Arctic air field. Weather extremes there are tremendous In winter the days are very brief and in summer correspondingly long Dutch Harbor is in the Alaska-Siberian region on Bering Sea, south of the Arctic Circle. A pilot friend of mine is now on duty there. He is a Southerner who was very uncomfortable in the Army hospital at Hot Springs, Ark., last May when the weather was a little cool. He must be fairly vibrating up in that part of the world in his first experience with real cold weather. In any event, Dutch Harbor, Alaska, is as far from Tokyo, Japan, as our new air base at Newfoundland is from Berlin, Germany. Quite a little hop in any kind of weather.

Last week the press reported the bombing of Danzig, Germany, on the day the Russian premier passed thru that city on his way to visit Hitler. That was the longest bombing trip the R. A. F. has made to the east that I know of. And that is about 1000 miles from London. The distance is less when London bombs the northern Italian cities. Now if you will compare this raid on Danzig, a thousand miles from London, with the great distance I have given you over the Pacific ocean, you will understand why I do not believe there will be war with Japan. I certainly do not see how any large scale war would be possible over such great distances.

American soldiers are not needed in England. But the British would surely welcome with great joy the assistance of the U. S Navy in keeping the sea lanes open and in convoying supplies from America across to Britain. Also the use of the training fields of the United States for the Royal Air Force in winter would be most acceptable. I regret to say that I do not think that the United States will make these aids available to England unless England were in desperate straits. The reasons I have given above are quite likely to keep the United States free from involvement in the war.

Japan is likely to do anything in the Pacific "short of war" with the United States. What holds Japan back is chiefly a very desperate financial and economic situation. For many years parts of Japan have verged upon famine and I do not think the present conditions can be humanly withstood by even the ultra patriotic Japanese people Our generation is quite likely to witnessone of the world's greatest revolutions in Japan.

When your friends predict that this country will soon to be in the war, just inquire as to where American soldiers are going to land, what the army is going to use for transports, and who is going to furnish the convoys to protect them. For the Axis has one advantage in the fact that Japan keeps the U. S. Navy largely in Pacific waters. Then there is the little matter of sending with an army the artillery, tarks, planes, ammunition, food, equipment and the million and one things that an army must have on the spot. Where would the ships come from to transport that material, and the naval convoys to assure their safe passage to the army abroad.

If your friends are able to make these things clear, I trust that they will be persuaded to write an account of it in this paper—and no one will read it with greater satisfaction than I will.

In short, I believe that the boys who will pass thru the army training camps will have some very vigorous exercise but I do not think that they will ever see active service in war. There will never be another American Expeditionary Force like the one we veterans knew and loved

Mess At Parchman

Investigating the reasons for the easy escape of the notorious prisoner, Kinney Wagner, the legislative committee have uncovered may defects in the system at the Parchman Farm, and the greatest defect lies in the divided authority of the governor and the superintendent of the penitertiary.

It appears that the superintendent has little, if any authority to hire or fire. If that is so, he cannot be blamed for events arising from such ,unhealthy conditions. There appears to be discord and dissent among the employees there; that some receive pay without work; and that others do not recognize the authority of the "big boss."

If theconditions uncovered by the investigation are corrected, it may develop that the escape of Wagner was a blessing in disguise.

State "Unity"

We note from the column of Kenneth Toler in the Sunday edition of the Commercial Appeal that Governor Johnson, having had an opportunity to study the situation in Mississippi objectvely from his hotel room in Hot Springs, and having seen that the situation is bad, has resolved, upon his return to duty, to seek to restore "unity" to the state government. Here and now, we want to cast our lot in that "unity" program. The good of the entire state is paramount to the good of any small group of pie hunters.

It is well known that the friends ( ) of the administration if they can be called real friends, have caused immeasurably more grief to Judge Johnson than have the so-called members of the anti-administration group. Eternal bickering for jobs, and for better jobs than offered, and eternal squabbles for more and better favors, have given Judge Johnson's administration a most inauspicious start. These squabbles and bickering have caused the governor's blood pressure to rise to dangerous heights. This blood pressure reacted upon the goevrnor, as it will upon any individual, by making him more testy and more nervous and irritable. This ailment which, as stated, has been aggrevated largely by his friends (?), has caused hm to be absent from the state, and from his post of duty, much of the time. Being unwilling to entrust matters to his second in command while he was away from his office has resulted in the state being practicaly without a governing head a good deal of the time. If all of this confusion merely resulted in the thwarting of the ambitions of the pie hunters and in the confusion of the favor-seekers, Mississippi could bear it with a grin. But the confusion does not stop there. It extends to the entire citizenship of the state who yearn for good, sensible and continuous government.

Should Judge Johnson's ambition extend to include further political offices, we doubt that his physical condition would permit him again to enter the fray. Therefore, we may assume that, in his heart of hearts, he hopes to make his administration a "good" one. Whether the individual citizen likes Paul Johnson, or dislikes Paul Johnson, does not remove the fact that Paul Johnson will, unless Death's hand intervenes (which, God forbid), be Governor of this State for 37 more months. Everyone who knows him knows that you can do more with him by leading him gently than by seeking to drive him forcibly. With the above two fundamental facts in mind, it might be well for Missisippians, irrespective of political creed or belief, to give Judge Johnson every assistance, both moral and material, when he seeks "unity" in the State government.

Farm Telephone Service Now Costs Little

You can't afford to do without a telephone, now that the cost of farm telephone service has been made so attractive.

A telephone of your own you will quickly find more than pays for itself, and the uses which you make of it are almost unlimited.

In emergencies such as sickness or fire a telephone of your own is invaluable. It saves useless trips to town, it keeps you in touch with neighbors, it can help you sell your livestock and produce and above all it is a time-saver.

Make it a point to stop by the local Telephone Business Office the next time you're in town and arrange to have a telephone of your own.

There is no use in the Grenada County Weekly (which will be helped if at all, only indirectly) tearing its shirt about the matter, unless the people directly concerned—the rank and file of retail merchants—are willing to take off their coats and undershirts and get busy.

NOTICE

All of our land in Grenada County is hereby posted against trespass of all nature. Further, all hogs, in trespass, improperly rung or snouted will be held for full damage.

thanks, MISSISSIPPI

At this season of the year the more than 11,000 Mississippians employed in the State's beer distributing and retail industry express their sincere thanks for the splendid cooperation the people of this State have given the Self-Regulation Program of the Brewers and Mississippi Beer Distributors Committee.

Through the cooperation of law enforcement officials, the press and the public, this committee has obtained the following results since its organization, fifteen months ago:

15 Beer Permits Revoked
24 Establishments' Beer Supply Shut Off
295 Warnings Issued
85 Outlets Corrected Objectionable Conditions
1761 Investigations Made

You can further aid this program by patronizing only retail outlets which are conducted in accord with the law and public sentiment in your community.

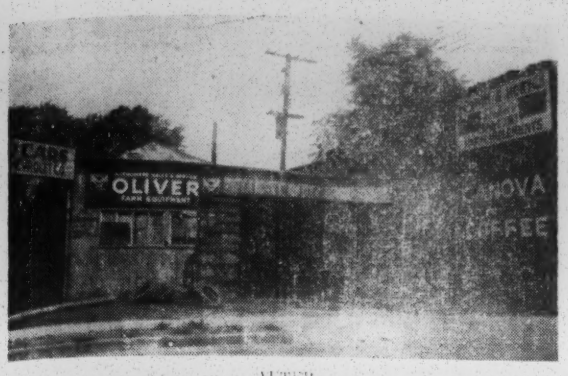
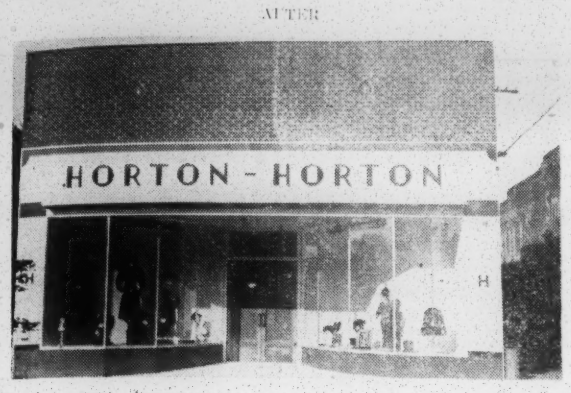
BEFORE



AFTER



Showing recent improvements our Green Street, we are pribileged to show the great change made on this growing street by the progressive firm, Horton & Horton, by reprodcing the new building and the old shack that the new building replaced. The ultra modern front that would de credit to any community was installed by the Capital Paint and Glass Company, of Jackson. This front is said to embody the very latest ideas in widow display. Moss Brothers were general contractors in erecting the substantial brick building.

Thus "Beal Street" Grows.

DUCK HILL NEWS
by Mrs. M. S. Walker

Miss Lola Mae Patridge spent several days at M. S. C. W. visiting her sister, Miss Mattie Bell Patridge returning Monday.

Mrs. W. E. Tyler spent Thursday in Jackson with her daughter, Mrs. G. T. Gillespie and family at Bellhaven College.

Mrs. Bent Caffey, Jr., of Jackson, spent the week-end with her parents Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Caffey

Rev. and Mrs. McKibben had all their children with them Sunday, they were the Edd Edison family of Lexington; Mr. and Mrs. Everette House, from Houston; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Godwin, of Water Valley, and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin McKiben with two children and Mrs. Smith from Lexington

Mrs. Joe Conger, of Carrollton and Memphis, is here for a long visit (we hope for the winter) with her cousin, Miss Bessie Curry.

Mrs. Clyde Hubbard, of Webb, spent several days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rose.

Dr. Caruthers has opened up his office in the back of Mr. Earl Moore's store for office practice and every one is singing in their hearts "Happy days are here again." Dr. Oliver is a good M. D. and appreciated by the people, but there is so much of sickness, pains, aches, etc., that we just need two Doctors on the job and everybody, young and old love Dr. Caruthers for he had been here so long until his health caused him to go to California to recuptrate.

Mr. S. D. Turner, of North Carrollton with the following members of his family, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lott, and Mr. and Mrs. Hary Holt Lott, of Jackson, stopped for a short visit with with his niece, Mrs. M. S. Walker, Sunday evening. They had been to Memphis spending the day with Mrs. Frank Liddell and family.

Mrs. Maude Ball, of Calhoun City, is here visting her sister, Mrs. Verne Mitchell.

The Baptist Woman's Missionary Union honored their pastor and wife, Dr. and Mrs. Thomas with a miscellaneous shower Monday afternoon at their new home on Binford Avenue they have just recently moved into. They received many nice and useful donations that bespeak the love and esteem in which they are held.

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Crump and Mr. Hyman McCarty were guests of Mrs. Mrs. M. S. Walker, from Collins Tuesday and Wednesday

The members of the Duck Hill Band claimed to have had a big time in Oxford last Saturday. James Leverette and Talmge Caffey spent the day with Claude Caffey and Everette Moore, Jr. and Miss Mattie Helen Sledge visited her cousin, Miss Lula Sledge, all students at the University. ?

Mrs. L. L. Branscome is back at home after spending several weeks at the Baptist Hospital in Memphis. Calling on her Sunday afternoon, when we told her that Dr. Caruthers taught the Sunday School lesson (Bible class) at Sunday school that morning and the Sunday before, she raised right straight up in bed and said "if Dr. Caruthers is going to teach that class again I'm going to get well and never again miss a lesson." Mr. Hamberlin is a good teacher, but like all the rest of the bunch takes his hat off to Dr. Caruthers. Come down some Sunday. Dr. Clanton and hear him.

J. D. Branscome is really "sitting on top of the world" as you will see from the article and picture on the front page of this paper, and the honors he has won. He accompanied Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Trapp and the other boys to Kansas City, but on the return they were his escorts. Much credit is due Mr. Trapp, the best Smith Hughes agricultural teacher in the state who taught these boys step by step, yet as reticent of claiming any praise, as if he had a zipper on his mouth. But we congratulate him just the same.

Rev. and Mrs. H. N. McKibben with Mrs. F. M. McCuiston attended the Zone meeting at Carrollton Tuesday afternoon.

"SOMETHING NEW INSOMETHING OLD," "COAL HEATING STOVE GOES MODERN"

Always abreast of the times and maintaining their usual position in the march of progress, the City Ice & Coal Company of Grenada, Miss. have under fire at their place of business for demonstration purposes, the new and unique Warm Morning Coal Heater which embodies the first original idea in a Coal stove in decades.

You are cordially invited by the City Ice & Coal Company staff to inspect this revolutionary heater, which will perform as no other coal stove has ever performed. This neat and sturdy stove with its gray porcelain enameled base, polished blue steel jacket, standing on its three legs which will level on any floor, from all outward appearances is not unlike an ordinary coal stove however the patented interior construction has never before been known to any coal heater. The Warm Morning operates on the principle of a minature coke oven, the coal being baked between two refractories until transformed into coke. This preheating drives off gases which are consumed in the combustion chamber by the flames coming up behind and out of the top and side ports in therefractories.

The faults and wastefulness of the ordinary stove have been eliminated in theWarm Morning, with the results that any grade of coal or any size, inthracite or bitiminous, can be successthracite or bitiminous, can besuccessfully burned, as well as coke or wood. It is impossible to smother the fire in a WarmMorning Heater, nor can a coal be made to clinker therein. Smoke and soot are reduced because of the manner in which air is fed to the fuel bed, resulting in complete combustion efficiency.

The Warm Morning stove requires less attention than most furnaces. The magazine of the 120 model series holds one hundred pounds of coal and if desired, one need start a fire but once a year for the fire never goes out. Closing of draft curtails heat and simple adjustment of the intake assures a warm house within a very short period of time. One charge of coal is sufficient for twenty-four hours in coldest weather, or for several days in mild weahter, without the necessity of refueling.

TWENTIETH CENTURY CLUB

The Twentieth Century Club met Tuesday, November 19th in the lovely home of Mrs. Bryan Revell with Mrs. E. A. Stacy as co-hostess.

The Thanksgiving motif was carried out in the dining room, with the use of artistically arranged bowls of fruit miniature turkeys and candles, while jonquils, zinnias and roses were used in the spacious living rooms.

The subject for the afternoon was, "The Theatre," and the program unusually good and interestingly presented.

Mrs. Fred Lickfold gave a portion of Katherine Cornell's autobiography entitled, "I Want to Be An Actress."

It is also interesting to know that Katherine Cornell is the only star on the American stage who has lived 20 years in the same house, with the same husband. His name is Gertrie McClintic.

Mrs. Whyte Whitaker reviewed the play, "There Shall Be No Night," by Robert Sherwood.
